

Institute of Educational Science at the Eberhard Karls University, Tübingen, need to be filled as soon as possible:

Postdoctoral researcher (m/f/d, 100%, TV-L (state collective wage agreement) E 13) for an initial term of three years.

The position includes a requirement to teach for four hours per week each semester. Academic research in the Adult Education/Further Education Department is also expected. The remaining duties involved in this position are coordination and administrative tasks connected to the Chair. The successful candidate is expected to be willing to obtain a Habilitation qualification.

Your profile:

You have completed your degree course (Master's or equivalent) and Doctorate in Adult Education and Further Education, or in associated subjects in the field of education and social sciences, with above-average results and are now seeking to take your next step in your academic career. You wish to focus on research into teaching and learning methods, professionalisation, organisation, governance and/or international comparison. Your knowledge of qualitative and/or quantitative empirical research methods is above-average. You are interested, or already have experience, in interdisciplinary research projects and in procuring third-party funds.